Dear Natalia;

Please contact me with information about your flights as soon as possible. I have had some correspondence from Alexander Tarnavski and hope that Rotary is beginning to take charge of this exchange. I understand that there may still be some problems with the CYO and have not heard recently whether everything is still going to work out as planned with your students arriving on June 19th. I had one American family contact me today to confirm things and I told them that everything seemed to be just as we have told them. It would be reassuring to hear a status report from you.

I would also like to ask you to speak for 10-15 minutes at Space Center Rotary Club on July 9th. The Soviets will tour NASA that morning, and then be guests at the Rotary Club for lunch. We would like to put you on the program for a short presentation. Please confirm this so I can tell the program chairman.

Sergei Adamov is going to be put in touch with the Houston Post newspaper here and arrangements will be made for him to network with journalists. The Post is interested in him sending back reports and photos from Moscow about the American students suitable for publication. Please convey this to him in case he is willing to do this. He could also file reports from here back to his magazine, and share his reports with the Post.

We have raised the funds to present to the Soviet teenagers upon arrival, but this plan only works if Pan Am honors your flight reservations in rubles. I need those details to present to them right away so they will keep their agreement. There are still some difficulties with the Americans schedule on the return flight and having your flight times will help me sort that out.

Guy Satterlee is taking care of the consulate and invitations and visas, and will soon take over all of the arrangements
