WARSAW TELEVISION INTERVIEW

TV HOST:

1. "What can free enterprise do for a society?"

Dr. TAYLOR:

"The United States today is virtually carried by the middle class, and free enterprise expands the middle class by creating much individual business activity. It also unleashes the creativity and productivity of individuals, leading to inventiveness and technology and advances, through competition. And it gives the most value to the consumer through the same competition. So free enterprise to us is the system that empowers the individual to be responsible for oneself."

TV HOST:

2. "In these brutal times no one does something for nothing. Why are you doing this?"

DR. TAYLOR:

"Rotary's motto is service above self. For example, Rotary has immunized millions of children in the third world against polio through another special program. In a capitalist society this type of community service has a humanizing influence on us and so businessmen join Rotary to balance their lives by doing community service."

TV HOST

3. "Who is this seminar for?"

DR. TAYLOR:

"As I said, free enterprise empowers the individual to take charge of his or her own economic life--and that is the person that this program is directed to--that individual that would like to cross over and do just that! The seminar is for people who are in business, or just thinking about it."

Where else for a Russian market than at the base of a building that was a gift from Stalin. The Russians flood in with the darndest things for sale - even guns.

The Russians are on the bottom in Poland. Menial work, Flea marketeers, and criminal. Some Rotarians from U.S. were maced and their luggage stolen at the train station - by Russians.

Besides touching so many lives with business expertise and encouragement, the local Rotary club was in the spotlight as a major player in the community.

Many candidates for Rotary emerged, but even more impressive were the number of other communities that asked for assistance in starting a Rotary Club—four at last count before we left—and two of them in other "states" within Poland. The "governor" of one of those states has already asked us to bring a team to his city after he gets a Rotary Club formed. We had other official requests to come back and speak elsewhere.

This small, infant Rotary Club in Warsaw is doing giant things.

"This Project was the most Rotarian thing I have ever been involved in ... people helping communities and service above self." BS

Two dentists: both treat children. Him for 20 years. Her for 2 months... that's how long the first children's dental office has existed in Warsaw. She may come study how it is done in HOUSTON for a month. Many such connections also occurred along the way
