RESIGNATION AND TORCH PASSING - We regret to announce that a member of our Board of Directors has been forced to submit his resignation to our Club. BOB DRIVER, a member of the Board and hard worker has been transferred to the NASA office in Washington, D.C., where he can try to help our seat of power in operation. We here at Space Center Rotary wish him the best of luck in his new job. There is a Rotary Club up there somewhere that is going to be very lucky to have BOB as a new member!! To fill the void on our Board, the BOARD OF DIRECTORS has appointed another hard worker, BILLY WESEMAN. Congratulations to you, BILLY!

DO YOU MAKE RIPPLES?...Rotary fellowship is like the pebble dropped into the pond. It develops concentric circles that can take in the world...But the pebble makes no ripple until it is dropped. In Rotary we call that attendance. - LEO AIKMAN, PDG., Atlanta, Georgia

SERVICE PAYS OFF...Service rendered by a Rotarian to his club is not all giving. The man who works the hardest to advance the cause of his club soon finds through Rotary an enlarged vision, a wider acquaintance and the soul satisfaction that comes with a job well done.

WORDS FOR THOUGHT - Watching my two year old daughter this morning, it struck me just how much of the "Joy of Living" we seem to lose when we grow up. That same rush of curiosity which overwhelms a young child becomes fear of the unknown as an adult. the unconquerable persistence of a determined baby develops into resigned acceptance of lowered expectations. Why? Why must maturity mean giving up that Spark of Joy? As Rotarians we come into contact with people on a daily basis who have let the responsibilities of adulthood translate into resistance to anything new, different or exciting. We must not let the same thing happen to us. Being "forever young" has nothing to do with our physical appearance, but rather with an inner ability to approach life through a child's eyes - tempered with an adult's wisdom. Editor

"How's your weekend in the country?"

THINK ABOUT IT...Did you notice the sign in front of a crematory: "All men are cremated equal!"...With proper care, the human body will last a lifetime!... Cancer has two allies, ignorance and apathy!...When a fellow retires, he stops worrying about his work and starts worrying about his worries!...It is not he that searches for praise that attains it...No wise man ever wished to be younger...

Car Colors and Character

If you're buying a new car, the color you choose offers a clue to your personality, according to the Automotive Information Council. Red and yellow are often chosen by bold, adventuresome individuals; white cream, grey or silver by those who pride themselves on moderation and good taste; blue, brown, green or gold by practical types. Pink and orange are said to have "small universal appeal."
